

Environmental Policy

Axel Christiernsson supplies lubricating greases to selected customers and markets. The products shall ensure full satisfaction for its intended applications, reducing wear and energy consumption. Environmentally friendly raw materials will be used wherever possible. We also perform toll manufacturing for our customers.

We shall promote development in order to ensure good and healthy environment for future generations. We endeavor to reduce our environmental impact by selection of raw materials product development, control of our internal operations and influence customer choice.

It is the aim of Axel Christiernsson to always comply with laws and regulations concerning the environment and thereafter improve continuously from this basis.

Our most important environmental aspects are energy consumption, transportation and the products.

We will follow new technology closely and aim to continually;

- Improve the environmental aspects of our products and ultimately supply only unlabeled products.
- Guide customers towards environmentally advantageous products. The judgment is based on raw materials, packaging, usage and disposal.
- Optimise transportation by planning and coordinating deliveries.

The company also contributes to the development of the society where we are a part. Hence we inform our staff regarding the environmental impact of our business. Together we work to reduce energy consumption and waste.

We shall be prepared for unexpected events and reduce risks in our operations through preventive actions.

We shall openly state our policy, targets, actions and results to the public.

The company shall ensure adequate resources for work in accordance with this policy.

Nol February 2007

Johan Stureson, MD